MADERO NOW READY FOR FLIGHT

Zapata Demands Surrender of Pueblo—Situation at Capital is Desperate

GEN. AUBERT FACES DEATH OR SURRENDER OF BAND

Gen. Orozco Plans to March on Mexico City if He Wins
Victory Today

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Reports that President Madero is preparing to flee from the capital arrived simultaneously with an official Mexican dispatch declaring that Zapata today demanded the surrender of Puebla, seventy miles from Mexico City.

The situation has grown desperate. President Madero can no longer hide the news of the defeat sustained by the federal forces after days of fighting.

AUBERT SURROUNDED AND FACES DEATH OR SURRENDER
PASO, March 28.—Hemmed in at Corralitos by the main body of Gen. Orozco's rebels, Gen. Aubert and a hundred federal soldiers are facing death or surrender, according to dispatches received here this morning. Federal Gen. Tellez, with 500 troops is rushing to the support of Gen. Aubert, but it is feared he will not arrive in time to save the day.

In the event of victory over Aubert today, Gen. Orozco plans an immediate march on the capital. Orozco has ordered all the rebels in Jimenez district to concentrate in an attempt to capture Gen. Aubert, whom he believes to be the backbone of the federal support here.

Gen. Aubert was hemmed in at Corralitos by the burning of the railroad by Gen. Tellez who destroyed the railroad after his defeat at Corralitos, being advised that the rebels were organizing to pursue his force. Aubert, when beginning his battle with the rebels, sent an urgent request to Gen. Tellez for reinforcements. The latter failed to get the word until he was well on his way to Torreon.

CONDORY JUDGED INSANE BY JURY

Mrs. Jack Cudahy Was Witness in Trial—Disposition of Man to be Made Today

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Mrs. Jack Cudahy, on the witness stand today, declared her belief that Morris J. Condory, held on a charge of attempted burglary, was the man she saw in her home at Pasadena previous to his arrest. She declared she believed the man was sent by an enemy, of whose identity she has not the slightest knowledge, but whom she believes should be punished. She said the object of the visit was to harass her. Her declaration created a sensation among the crowd which attended the trial in order to see Mrs. Cudahy, as it was generally believed Condory would be released.

When the woman testified Condory buried his face in his hands and sobbed: "I am not the man." His father rushed to his side and comforted him.

The jury adjudged Condory insane. Final disposition of his case will be made late today.

Duel to Death of Old Friends Inside Church

OAKLAND, March 28.—As a result of a long feud, ex-Mayor Roland Snow and his former friend, Adolph Goldman, are dead by each other's hand. Snow shot Goldman in the First Congregational church prior to prayer meeting last night. After Goldman had slashed him with a razor Snow shot him with a revolver. Goldman lived through the night, dying in the hospital this morning.

The duel was the outcome of an enemy dating back to the time Snow was elected mayor in 1899. Previously the men had been the best of friends. Some years ago Goldman shot Snow after a quarrel in San Francisco, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary after a long legal battle, in which evidence was adduced besmirching the character of both men.

COUNTY CHARTER FEDERAL PROBE PLAN TURNED DOWN HERE

Associated Chambers Refuses to Further Consider Home Rule Project

RECOMMENDS DIRECT TAX FOR $50,000

Banquet Held Last Night Twenty-Four Prisoners Questioned—Many of Them Respect no Flag

Part of a wide investigation of the Independent Workers of the World was underway in the Santa Ana jail yesterday afternoon and last night. The inquiry was in charge of Charles H. Delacour, representing the immigration department and the department of justice, and Chief of Police Keno Wilson of San Diego. The federal officers asked questions to show the tendencies of the I. W. W., its aims and purposes and the aims and purposes of the individuals who are in jail here, held for trial in San Diego on charges of violating the city law prohibiting public speaking at the corner of E and Fifth streets.

Local officers and newspaper men who were present at the inquiry were astounded at the answers given by many of the men who were examined. Many people have looked upon the organization as a kind of a body of tramps who were fond of trouble. If the answers are true, it is of greater importance. Several of the I. W. W. men here stated that the organization is nation-wide and world-wide, that it exists in foreign countries under different names. Some of the men examined at San Diego said here declare that their organization is back of the revolution in Mexico.

"Do you believe in overthrowing the Constitution of the United States?" This question was asked of each man at San Diego. The investigation began there. The answers were flimsy and anarchistic, and many of the men laid themselves open to deportation as anarchists. By the time the investigators reached this city, word had been passed to the men in jail here to be wary, and they were wary. However, some of them were too ignorant to dodge the questioning. Some declared they respected no flag, and owed allegiance to no country. Several stated they respected the red flag.

Delacour presented a red flag taken from a prisoner in the county jail at San Diego. "Red Flag Flung" was printed on a placard pinned to the piece of red flag, made out of a tobacco sack.

Several of the men questioned here admitted having heard Ed. Louis, wanted in Los Angeles on a dynamiting charge, speak.

During a part of the examination, Delacour stated that eighty-five per cent of the I. W. W. members are foreigners.

Six of the twenty-four men in jail here are under investigation for deportation. Much depends upon whether or not they can prove legal right to be here. Their answers as to ports of entry and vessels are in some instances very hazy.

That the situation has become of federal importance is shown in an article in a Los Angeles paper this morning, which says:

"An appeal to the United States to suppress the Industrial Workers of the World in San Diego County has been made by District Attorney H. S. Utley. The state laws, it is said, are not broad enough to cope with the situation and the aid of the government has been solicited. Following a conference with the San Diego County district attorney, A. I. McCormick, United States district attorney, yesterday announced that a rigid investigation will be instituted, and if the federal laws are being violated prosecution will follow."

In their investigations here, Delacour and Chief Wilson took each prisoner separately and questioned them in the presence of witnesses. Deputy Sheriffs Squires and Jernigan were among those present.

One of the most ignorant men ever in the Orange county jail is Ivan Tanuck, a Russian. It took less than half a minute for the questioning to develop that in him the I. W. W. people had an adherent who knew nothing about the organization and very little about anything else. He displayed a horse-shoe shaped mark on his forehead, and said he was kicked there by a cot when he was 9 years old. He said he had never been able to learn to read or write anything. He did not know how he got to this country except that his brother paid his fare. The man said he went to San Diego with a crowd. He did not know anything about the free speech law, but he was told to get up on the soap-box and tell about being a miner. He got up and was arrested. He did not know what it was all about. The man was evidently simple-minded.

Chas. O. Nigard said he respects no flag. This was the usual I. W. W. answer to the question as to respect

PEOPLE MUST RULE—"BOSSES" ARE MENACE, SAYS ROOSEVELT

COL. ROOSEVELT ABSOLUTELY
DENIES THIRD PARTY PLANS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 28.—A flat denial of the published charges that he intends to bolt should he fail to land the Republican nomination for president, was made today by Col. Roosevelt. The colonel issued the following statement through his private secretary:

"Any statement to that effect is a fake pure and simple. Any time I have anything to say on that subject, I will say it myself. Anything purporting to come from me unless I say it myself, can be considered a fake."

Roosevelt arrived here from Chicago at 8 o'clock this morning and was met by a delegation headed by Governor Herbert Hadley and escorted to the Planters' Hotel. Several speeches and luncheons during the day and a political speech tonight were planned, but a sore throat caused Colonel Roosevelt to shorten the day's program. During the morning he referred repeatedly to the report that he intends to form a third party, and appeared annoyed over the report.

In spite of his sore throat, Colonel Roosevelt spent a strenuous day. He drove through the streets following breakfast and was enthusiastically greeted. Following a reception at the hotel, he conferred with the progressives, then attended a city club luncheon.

Alexander Revell, president of the Stars and Stripes.

Richard Price, aged 83, declared he was an I. W. W. and proud of it. He said he followed no flag. "I follow nothing," snapped the old man. He said he did not know whether or not he had a wife or children. He believed in using bullets if necessary to change conditions.

George Sale, an Austrian, for twenty years in America but never naturalized, sang two verses of an I. W. W. song, the first line of which is, "The red flag is the people's flag."

When Inspector Delacour tried to get Sale to take the oath, the man refused. He declared he believed in no supreme being and owed allegiance to nothing, and therefore an oath to tell the truth was of no effect.

T. J. O'Brien said he had taken part in the free-speech wars at Spokane and Fresno. He said he had ridden all over the world, generally beating his way. He had been arrested eight or ten times. He said his leg was crippled when he was born. Under Sheriff Squires spoke up and said O'Brien had told him two days ago that it was crushed by a car. O'Brien grinned and said it did not make any difference what he said about it because it would not be believed anyhow.

With Thousands to Hear
Fiery Address

GRILLING OF TAFTITES

Roosevelt Denied Absurd Idea
That He Aspired to be a Dictator

CHICAGO, March 28.—Theodore Roosevelt spent the first day of his western campaign trip expressing in unmeasurable terms to the people of Indiana and Illinois his righteous indignation for the "criminally farcical" primaries in which the voters of New York and other states were deprived of their franchise.

At the Auditorium Theater last night he spoke to the largest, and probably the most enthusiastic, political meeting that ever assembled in this city. Never in the halcyon days of his fame as a Rough Rider colonel, as a militant governor of the Empire state, or the returned hero of a year of glory abroad, did Theodore Roosevelt receive a more tremendous tribute, a more sincere homage than his followers of the middle west gave him here.

Colonel's Appearance a Triumph
The Colonel's appearance at the Auditorium was a triumph. More than 7000 persons filled the great hall, and hundreds more fought before the doors in Congress street to get in. The Roosevelt committee had given out 16,000 tickets. Women fainted, men shouted in the struggle to get in.

Roosevelt opened fire on the Taft forces, having destroyed his set speech for the occasion when he heard of the New York primaries election result. In his denunciation, he said in part:

"Is this nomination to be entrusted to the political and financial interests, the representatives of the powers of pillage, the men who, with the backing of big crooked business, work through the lowest kind of political machinery and count on the silence or support of every newspaper that is owned or controlled by, directly or indirectly, responsive to, those great powers that work in the darkness?"

Calls Roll of the Bosses
He then reiterated the well-known fact that President Taft's political fortunes were now committed to men of this type, naming Taft, Keating, Penrose, Ballinger, Gallinger, Guggenheim and Evans in Colorado, Aldrich in Rhode Island, Cox in Ohio, Lorimer in Illinois, and Barnes and Koenig in New York. The Colonel's assault on the Republican machine-made and operated New York primaries was detailed.

"The election machinery in New York was used as unscrupulously as in the days of Tweed," he said. "Names of Roosevelt delegates were left off the ballots, ballots were misprinted, were folded in such a way as to confuse the voters and in numerous instances were not delivered to polling places until four or five hours after the polls had opened, and in some instances, not before twenty minutes or a half an hour before closing."

The text of Colonel Roosevelt's address was "Let the People Rule." It outlined in sweeping strokes his conceptions of popular rights. It said unmistakably that the Republican party has been diverted by the malign combination of big business and corrupt political bosses from the straight and narrow path outlined for it by Abraham Lincoln.

He said the people of this country are face to face with the greatest political crisis since the Civil war, and that the Republican party itself is on trial, after fifty years of power, as to its right to rule. Boss rule, he said, menaced the party and nation. He denounced as an absurdity that he hopes to become a dictator.

"There is not much danger to the people," he said, "from a man who can do nothing unless he can persuade them that what he wants is right."

After his speech at the Auditorium the Colonel went to Wicker Park Hall, to the meeting he especially requested for wage earners, and where a crowd waited until after 10 o'clock to hear him again. At 11:43 at night he left for St. Louis.

GOOD PROGRESS AT GARDEN GROVE

New Houses, New Pumping
Plants, New Teachers Tell of Community's Growth

GARDEN GROVE, March 27.—There are at present seven new houses under construction in the thriving little town of Garden Grove, and in riding over the country around the town, new houses can be seen everywhere and new pumping plants, cement plants and other improvements, all speak of the thriftiness of the community.

The number of pupils at the school is increasing very fast. At present there are eight teachers and another will probably be added at the next term of school. The parents are requested to visit the school and get acquainted with the teachers, and if things are going smoothly, give them a word of encouragement, and let them know of your appreciation.

A surprise birthday party was given to Edith Lee by her classmates on last Saturday afternoon. About fifteen were present. A very enjoyable time was had, the little girl received a number of remembrances. Refreshments were served.

Joseph Lamb, who has lately bought the Hending place, is improving it and remodeling the house. Mr. Hending, who has built a new house in Santa Ana, has moved there.

The twenty-acre piece of land lying just south of the old Hending place, which was sold to Mr. Geo. Cook, has been subdivided into five-acre tracts and resold. The entire tract is being set to orange trees.

D. W. McDANNALD DESCRIBES HIS VISIT TO SALT LAKE CITY

SALT LAKE CITY, March 18.—Around Canyon City is a stretch of country bearing a closer resemblance to "civilization" than any place I have seen on this long journey.

There are many thrifty looking apple orchards, clean limbed and well proportioned. I ate of the fruit, and the flavor is all that could be reasonably expected. I forget how many hundreds of carloads they told me were shipped from this "apple growing section" each year, but I do remember the amount almost staggered me. And the coloring, too, was fine. Their skins shone like burnished ebony, or the glow of description in Jasper's lecture when he tells the tale of San Diego's transformation from a "sheep range to an orange orchard."

Three miles out from Canyon City we enter the trail that leads to the clovis, or, expressed in language conforming to the terms of the guide books, the train enters the "Royal Gorge," the fourth greatest natural wonder the world has to offer. The three which precede this one, or those that have gone before, are, Niagara Falls, Yosemite Valley, and Orange county's beautiful park.

An attempt to describe the Royal Gorge and the wonderful railroad engineering feat in building through this gap in the continent would be so abortive I am not going to attempt it. Like many other good things in this happy-go-lucky old world of ours, it must be seen to be appreciated. It is seven miles through the gorge proper, and into every precious foot is crowded scenery, grand, weird, majestic. Towering peaks, precipitous walls, frescoed turrets jutting out toward the sky-line, and all the time the tortuous course of the Arkansas river threading its way along at our feet.

On these barren, terrace fronted mountain crests and cliffs, nature has caricatured many familiar things. At a distance, "Castle Rock" so much resembles the abode of some medieval outlaw of royal ancestry that you can conjure those dark spots into port holes, and those other shapes, standing far out on the projecting ledge, as giant sentinels, faithfully guarding unearned increment. There is "Rooster Rock," and across there on an other spur of the "Range" is "Sacred Cross," "Elephant's Peak" as it stands boldly out on the rim of yon projecting ledge, looks so much like a real live leviathan that I could have almost sworn I saw him whisk his tail.

We are ascending the continental divide now on an incline grade of 1500 feet to the mile, and the way the three big engines pant and puff is ample evidence that we are surely "going up." At 9:15 we enter the tunnel at Tennessee Pass, and the guide announces we have gained the summit of the continent, and are two miles above sea level. Gee, how queer that air tastes; There don't seem enough of it to go around. A great many people are unable to stand the sudden change, and a few die and forget to tell their experience. One man "blew out his light" on the train ahead of us, but the railroad carried him on to his destination anyway. They said he was a very wicked man and was bound for Albuquerque.

From this narrow backbone of a summit the waters of two streams flow in opposite directions. Those of the Arkansas go trickling away on the long journey towards the Atlantic, while Eagle river points its course westward, and eventually, if it is able to steer its way clear of the many reclamation projects, finds an outlet in the balmy Pacific. It seems almost uncanny, these engineering feats through these high and rugged mountains, and all the time maintaining an average schedule of nearly 30 miles an hour.

We pass over hundreds of miles of country so barren and desolate that even the forlorn coyote has abandoned it to the D. & R. G. and shuns it like a pestilence. Of the many towns that go by in the night, I cannot even pay them "passing regard," for we are "homeward" bound and there is no time to form new ties or friendships.

We cross the line from Colorado into the Mormon state at Utaime, as the clock strikes 4 a.m. I awake to find that conditions have not changed—at least, not for the better. We are still many miles removed from the "promised land." Cross Green River at 7 o'clock, and stop at Green River City just long enough to say "Hello!" to the few denizens who chance to be up, and are away at the usual 30 mile gait. We follow up Price river to Soldier's Summit, the top of the second continental divide, and in doing this turn, or turns, we gain a dizzy height of almost 8000 feet. This is the summit of the Wasatch range, in ruggedness and desolation a close competitor to the Rockies. Off on the range we see snow aplenty, piled high against the giant boulders, while in marked contrast all through the Price river valley it looks quite spring like. We pass "Castle Gate," the real entrance to the road leading to this continental divide on an incline grade of 4 per cent. The scenery through the gorge is simply "gorgeous." This last remark, by the way, I borrowed from a tourist making his maiden trip from the level stretches of verdant Kansas. As we ascend the steep grade our speed slackens perceptibly, and the speedometer marks "10 miles to the good."

Tunnel No. 2 is reached at 10 o'clock, and from here we can look over towards the land where flows the "milk and honey," the "beautiful, sunny Southland." And there is still another alluring chapter to this story. Over there is "Home."

We meet a train of 28 empty coal cars being bucked up the mountain by three big "hog" engines. Some parts of this line has a four per cent grade, but the D. & R. G. directors have recently set aside six and a quarter million dollars to lower the grades to one and a half and two per cent.

We have met today at least a dozen belated freight trains, eastward bound, and I noticed a great many of the cars were marked "California Refrigerators." Some of them, no doubt, were carrying Orange county's choicest fruit, but I am not permitted to investigate.

On the western side of the Wasatch range the scenery is not so beautiful or gorgeous as it is on the eastern slope. Coming down this side we pass through miles upon miles of the real, vile-smelling sage, the sight and odor of which carry me back to those pioneer days when we were compelled to use the sage for fuel, and victuals cooked over its heat are rendered about as palatable as if they were soaked in kerosene.

The cost of travel in this country varies according to circumstances. For illustration: I paid the Pullman people $3.50 for lower 1 in car "Echo" four nights from Kansas City to Pueblo. From Pueblo to Salt Lake City I was forced to part with four flouters just to tarry in the coach one night.

Coming out of the bleak, dreary mountains into the fertile, well tilted acres of the great Salt Lake basin is not unlike the awakening from an unpleasant dream. When Phil Kearney offered Brigham Young $100 a bushel for all the wheat he could grow in the valley, he little knew what the future held in store. Since 1847, when the Mormonites first set up claim to ownership, millions have been taken from the soil of the valley, and other millions have been gathered from the nearby mines. Whenever Utah horticultural, agricultural, mineral and tourist wealth is written, it requires seven figures to tell the "wondrous tale." It is not my purpose to extol her virtues or expatiate on her resources, but if Utah was suddenly pulled off the map, I can picture a great big, deplorable hole.

In following the bent of all strangers in the strange city of the "Desert Angels," I wandered through the Temple grounds, craned my neck at the tall steeples, domes, minarets and spires, and like all other strangers, asked, in a manner of fool questions, and was duly surprised at receiving civil answers. I went into the Tabernacle and heard the "pin drop." In touring the place I took in all the sights, and stole away with as many of its, and their secrets as I could lug off. I will surely return to Salt Lake City some time, when I have more time hanging on my shoulders, then I will explore every niche of the old town, fish in the great lake, explore her forgotten mines, climb her cherry trees, and all the while will I keep

REPORT SHOWS MILLIONS IN STEEL TRUST

21 Officers and Directors of
U. S. Steel Corporation
Control Vast Sum

Companies Interlocked Showing Power to be Vested in
Few Hands

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Twenty-one officers and directors of the United States Steel corporation are also directors in 213 corporations which have the enormous total capital, surplus and funded debt of $15,208,487,325, according to the report of the Stanley steel trust investigation committee, completed yesterday by J. W. Boston, clerk of the committee.

This system of interlocking directors, the report shows, is the basis of the control by the steel trust of the business of the country and the report goes on to point out that against the more than fifteen billions thus controlled, the total amount of money in circulation in the United States is but $3,284,152,496, and when the bullion in the treasury is added but $3,621,117,239.

George F. Baker, a director in the steel trust, heads the list, being an officer or director of nearly sixty companies whose total capital, surplus and funded debt amounts to the enormous total of $5,871,407,819. The committee will take the ground that it is impossible that these 213 companies, which have the same systems of directors, do not work in harmony.

OLD INDIAN WOMAN DEAD

Los Angeles Paper Says She is Last of the Old Tribe of the Mission

Los Angeles Tribune: Lacking but two weeks of being 108 years old, Mrs. Clara Citalez, the last of the San Juan Capistrano Indians, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, 2519 Leonard street, after a short illness.

Senora Citalez was born April 9, 1804, at San Juan Capistrano, the most beautiful and prosperous of the missions instituted by the padres. For many years she had been a widow and had resided with her daughter, both of whom clung to the old traditions, and although they had lived in Los Angeles a long time neither one spoke the English language.

Senora Citalez had been almost completely blind for several years, otherwise she retained all her faculties, and could remember distinctly the days of the missions, when the padres were all in to their charges, and always spoke with pleasure of the mission regime.

Last year the aged Indian was one of the attractions at the fair given of the attractions at the fair given at the Plaza church and several nights attended the bazaar, which proved a great novelty to her, although she could not see the crowds of people and the gaily decked patio.

With the death of Senora Citalez the last known of the Capistrano Indians has gone, and the traditions of this once beautiful mission, which now lies in ruins, have been passed on to another and younger generation.

It was always a source of sadness to the aged woman that her beloved mission should be so neglected, with but a hint of its former beauty. Arrangements for the funeral will be completed by the family today. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

ANAHEIM WAS KILLED BY A LEVER

Man Met Death at Anaheim
Sugar Company Plant
Yesterday Afternoon

ANAHEIM, March 28.—Coroner Winbiger this morning held an inquest over the body of William Skovman. The verdict was accidental death caused by deceased being struck on the head by a lever used in the Anaheim Sugar Company's plant.

Skovman for several months had been in the employ of the sugar company. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon, while Skovman and another employee were endeavoring to raise a lever used in unloading the cars. The ratchet slipped, causing the lever, which is five feet long, to fall with a heavy blow on Skovman's head, fracturing his skull and causing death in a few minutes.

The man was 42 years old and unmarried. The body is being held at Anaheim, awaiting instructions from a sister living in Arizona.

THINKS FIELD IS WIDE ONE

ANAHEIM, March 27.—Frank M. Selby of Marietta, O., an oil operator, visited this city yesterday, and the oil fields north of Anaheim interested him to such an extent that he looked over the ground in that locality. Upon being asked for an opinion as to whether Anaheim proper might be oil territory, he did not give a direct answer but said that he believed that the present Orange county oil field limits would be much widened during the next few years and that the trend of things indicated expansion of the proven area toward Anaheim.

Selby is president of the Selby Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa, Okla., and of the Selby-Cisler Production Company of Robinson, Ill., one of the ablest geologists in the country and a highly successful oil operator. It is said that he has acquired some valley holdings and it is believed that he may enter the Orange county oil field at a later date for purposes of development. Selby's statement as to the situation here was:

"The immediate situation is doubtless an improvement over that confronted earlier in the year, but it could be better. You are still producing beyond consumption, and I hardly look to see you entirely out of the woods for some time. As for oil in California, I do not believe that you have as yet more than prospected a little of your territory. There is a great deal remaining to be done."

Concerning oil prices in the East, Selby said that very satisfactory advances had been made, totalling upwards of 30 cents a barrel, and indications are that more will come. He looks for price improvements in California. He has been in California for three months and expects to return to his eastern interests the first of next month.

AMUSEMENTS

"Little Miss Fix-It"
Alice Lloyd, who comes here on Thursday, March 28th, at the Grand Opera House in "Little Miss Fix-It" is a devotee of all kinds of outdoor exercise. She is an enthusiast in such sport as golf, automobile, horse-back riding and motor boating. She holds the world's record for a woman in the last named sport by reason of having driven a 100 horse power motor boat, owned by W. J. Connors of Buffalo, N. Y., at a speed of 30 miles an hour on the Niagara river. But walking is alike a preventative and a cure for all ills with this charming little Britisher. She says: "To my mind, the three fundamental requisites of a sound mind and healthy body are—simple food, plenty of sleep and an abundance of exercise in the open air."

"Everything Comes to Him Who Waits."

The Altons comedy black face and straight in singing and talking are features, and with a complete series of all new photo plays will make up a show different from all others and "Everything comes to him who waits," is a big comedy by the Edison Co., and is a whole show of itself. Many are talking of the big coming attraction at the Temple, next Monday night, continuing for three nights, the Raising of the Maine, and a turnaway crowd is promised. The subject of national interest, the cost of which can hardly be estimated, and to see all of the work depicted in moving pictures is a sight of a life time.

PARTY SUCCESS INVOLVED

(Riverside Press.)

Republicans who are loyal to their party are anxious for the election of a Republican president next fall. They believe that the economic policies advocated by the Democratic party, especially on the tariff, are opposed to the prosperity and development of the country and that serious business stagnation might follow the election of a Democratic president and congress. They are therefore more interested in the success of the party than in the ambitions of any candidate. Considering the campaign from that standpoint, it is difficult to understand how any one who candidly faces the situation as it exists today can fail to be for Roosevelt. Admitting all that his friends claim in behalf of President Taft, he has certainly failed as an inspiring party leader. He was elected four years ago because of the ginger Roosevelt put into the campaign and because the people believed he would be an enthusiastic supporter of the Roosevelt policies. In spite of his high character and honest purpose, Taft has not gotten hold of the people. They are not enthusiastic over him, they are even distrustful of him. That feeling may be unjust, but it exists so generally that it is likely to defeat Taft, if he is nominated.

What the party needs in this Democratic year is a strong, aggressive candidate who will appeal to the imagination and enthusiasm of the people and who stands in the public eye as the exponent of distinctly progressive policies. Roosevelt meets those conditions better than any one else and that is why his nomination seems the surest guarantee of party success.

This phase of the situation was very ably discussed in a recent address by Chester H. Rowell of Fresno in a joint debate with Frank H. Short, and the following extracts from his address are commended to the thoughtful consideration of the Republican readers of the Press:

There is an additional party reason for opposing the nomination of President Taft. In choosing a president we are also choosing a party leader. President Taft is fond of referring to himself as "the titular head of the party." I do not know that this is a necessary function of the presidential office, but President Taft at least so regards it and so exercises it. What have been the results of that leadership, as exercised by him? He has undertaken to lead the party sometimes right and sometimes wrong, but never successfully. He took the party successfully beyond the memory of parties, and we find it now with recent defeat behind it and universal doubt ahead. He took it vigorous and harmonious. Now we find it split and discordant, with its most vital element, including the dominant Republicanism of California, undertaken to be read out of the party by the voice and acts of the president himself. We find enthroned as the leaders of the party those whom Roosevelt had dethroned and whom the people elected Taft to keep dethroned, and we find denounced and ostracized, as not Republicans, those whose leadership gave the party vitality and progress, in the days of Roosevelt. We find the Republican party victorious in every portion of the country where President Taft has repudiated it and we find it defeated everywhere where he and it have remained together. There is only one opinion of William H. Taft as a jurist, and that is favorable. There are two opinions of him, both probably in part correct, as an administrator and as an advocate of legislative policies. But there is only one opinion of him as a leader, and that is that in this capacity he is a total failure.

This, I say, is the opinion even of his friends. In recent magazine comment, for instance, I find only two reviews that are friendly to the president. One of these, the World's Work, says that "among clean, commonplace presidents, he will take high rank." But the World's Work thinks this is the year for the election of Woodrow Wilson, who is clean and not commonplace, and it advocates the nomination of Taft as the most graceful way of assuring the election of Wilson. The other is an anonymous reviewer in the Atlantic Monthly, who, in a brilliantly sympathetic analysis of President Taft, concedes as an axiom that the president as a leader is a failure; that he has lost, in part unreservedly, the popular confidence; that, while comprehending the logic of an argument, he has no instinct of the heart of the people; and that "the high hopes with which his presidency opened have not been met." These, remember, are friendly, not hostile views. And we are choosing now a leader of whom the best defense that his friends can make in this capacity, is that he is a well-meaning blunderer. Is that the sort of a general under whom to march to battle?

President Taft has argued, more clearly and forcibly than any other orator in America, for the progressive policy of tariff revision. But his vacillating leadership did not get us that sort of tariff revision, and his most belligerent advocates are those who do not want this sort of a revision. Instead of the tariff peace that usually follows for a decade or more any tariff revision, we have tariff unrest and doubt. Orator Taft advocates a policy that would make for peace and justice, but President Taft contributes less than nothing to the realization of that policy. It is further away now than it was before he began to preach it. And the same analysis might apply to all the progressive legislative policies of President Taft. Partly by intelligent understanding of them and partly by sheer momentum, he has advocated many such policies, and he has even succeeded in accomplishing a few. But he has done so at the cost of a leadership and an affiliation which has made of the Republican party and of the American congress a less efficient medium of accomplishing more of them. A presidency is not to be judged by words, merely, but by deeds. The words may have been the voice of Jacob, but the hand has been the hand of Esau. Inept leadership, false affiliation, and a total lack of touch with the people, have vitiated the confessedly good intentions of President Taft, and have, in the words of the most intelligent of his opponents, "disappointed the high hopes with which his administration began."

Publisher Munsey Is In Favor of Roosevelt

"It looks like a Democratic victory this fall, except on the chance that Colonel Roosevelt may be nominated in June at Chicago, or that some compromise candidate like Justice Hughes may become the standard-bearer," says Frank A. Munsey in an article in Munsey's Magazine for April entitled "The Business Situation and Its Relation to the Political Struggle."

"If the contest now on in earnest between the followers of Roosevelt and the followers of Taft results in Roosevelt's nomination, his nomination will presage his election, and his election would mean, naturally, the continuation of the present party in power, with a man in the White House who is the embodiment of initiative and energy. Now that the measures for which Mr. Roosevelt made his great fights as president have largely become the law of the land, and now that the corporations are being brought under control of the government, it is my belief that if again made president, he would chiefly devote himself to revivifying our industries and our business, and would devote himself, with all his tremendous powers of application, to a broad and big policy of constructive statesmanship."

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Haber-dasheries and ready-made clothing emporiums are coming into strong demand in China, according to a report by observant U. S. consuls stationed in the Heathen Land. Liberty, which came to the Chinese with the revolution inspired a wholesale amputation of queues. Now they have taken another step forward by doing the garb of the occident. Streets in Chinese cities have to a large extent lost the picturesque feature of blue gownned pedestrians and give a fair impression of the thoroughfares in the European cities.

"Already the factories in Japan," says one consul, "are running overtime to supply the demand for caps, the use of which is an outcome of the queue cutting. The caps in vogue are small visor, brown shoddy or cloth. The sizes would run about the same as those of the American youth 16 to 20 years of age. Local tailors are working extra hours here turning out cheap suits from low-grade cloths. Silk merchants in alarm are trying to stem the tide, but without success."

Spiritual instruction has for years been given to the House of Representatives by Rev. Dr. Henry N. Couden, the blind chaplain, and his daily prayers have obtained widespread fame. Recently he made an innovation by introducing poetry in invocation to this effect:

"The stars shine over the earth,
The stars shine over the sea;
The stars look up to the mighty God,
The stars look down on me.

The stars have lived a million years,
A million years a day;
But God and I shall love and live,
When the stars have passed away."

"Thornless and spineless" prickly pears have been covered by the Department of Agriculture to be a most economical food for cattle, and in a pamphlet just issued, the desert plant is highly recommended to stockmen of Texas, California and Arizona.

"In one instance a herd of 80 to 100 cows had no other roughage for nearly two years," the Department states, but "no inconvenience was apparent, and the flow of milk was good."

"A yield of 20 to 25 tons to the acre pays well, especially when other characteristics of the crop are taken into consideration. Such a yield means sufficient roughage for one cow from one acre without irrigation."

Experiments which have been made by the Department of Agriculture for some time have not been completed to the point of ascertaining definitely just what the average yields are. At Chico, Cal., where the stock of the department is grown, it was stated that the production has been "satisfactory both in quantity and quality."

The ghost of the transaction in which, on terms alleged to have been extremely easy, the National City Bank of New York, acquired the old custom house in New York, arises in every session of Congress. That was true of the present session, a few days ago, when the wraith was called up by Representative Fitzgerald, of Brooklyn, chairman of the House appropriations committee.

"Two bids were submitted for the old custom house," he said. "The National City Bank made an offer, I think, of about $3,200,000 as against $3,125,000 offered by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. The award was made to the National City Bank."

But when the contract was made provisions were inserted in it that had never been called to the attention of the respective bidders by which it was provided that all of the purchase price should not be paid until the government agreed to pay 4 per cent upon the purchase price as rent to its purchaser, although it retained the title itself; and it also agreed to deposit $3,200,000, which was supposed to be paid, in the National City Bank. The result was that the National City Bank made a bookkeeping transfer of $3,200,000 on its books, the government retained the title, it paid the National City Bank 4 per cent on the purchase price for five or six years as rent on its own property, the property remained exempt from taxation, and eventually the National City Bank practically got the property for almost the amount that the government had paid to it in rent. That is what can be done by distinguished gentlemen under pressure."

The custom house, an old structure of most impressive architectural design, was located in Wall Street, in the very heart of the financial district.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson Were Treated to Happy Surprise by Friends

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson celebrated their second wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at their home on Prospect avenue, with a picnic party. Their guests were young people of the First Baptist church. At 7 o'clock conveyances left the church and a delightful ride was enjoyed out to the ranch home.

The house and grounds were gay with lanterns. Upon arrival the guests not supposed to know the occasion of the party, surprised the host and hostess by presenting them a huge paper package. Upon opening it more paper and scraps of paper, and newspapers from all over California were spread out before a little gift book was found bearing date 1910-1912.

At the conclusion of this fun games were enjoyed, one testing newspaper knowledge being the guessing of ads. from the evening Register.

Lloyd Sharp's splendid voice was heard in several numbers with Percy K. Lusk at the piano.

A substantial two-course supper was served, the nappery and plates carrying out the "paper anniversary."

Dinner Party

Last Lecture Tonight

The auditorium of the First M. E. church was again filled last night by an interested audience listening to Madame Mountford from Jerusalem.

A beautiful seamless garment such as Christ wore was shown, also one with a seam such as Saul wore and from which David cut the skirt. Into the very garments are woven signs and Bible meanings, many of which the lecturer made plain. Madame Mountford stated that the personality of God is being denied by some and that some asserting God is a sort of influence and that all have this divine principle within them. She asserts that such teaching was first preached to Adam and Eve in the

HOME WEDDING

Miss Letitia Livesey Became Wife of Joseph B. Preston Last Evening

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Livesey, 702 East Fifth street, at 8 o'clock last evening, which made Miss Letitia Livesey the bride of Joseph B. Preston. The ceremony which united the young couple in marriage was performed by Rev. J. A. Stevenson, of the First Presbyterian church, the couple standing under an arch of bridal wreath and asparagus plumes.

The youthful beauty of the bride, a dainty brunette, was enhanced by the attractiveness of her wedding gown which was the pretty dress used at her recent graduation. It was fashioned of white chiffon over tulle and was trimmed in lace and mesquite. About twenty near relatives of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony, following which refreshments were served in the dining room.

Both young people are young and favorably known here. The bride came to Santa Ana seven years ago from Peterboro, New Hampshire, and has made many friends by her sweet disposition and winsome ways. She was the leading lady in the class play "Cupid at Vassar" given at the time of her graduation from the high school in February last.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Preston of this city and is a young man of sterling worth. He is in the employ of the Edison Electric Company.

Their many friends will wish Mr. and Mrs. Preston every happiness in their married life. They will reside in Santa Ana, surrounded by their friends who remembered them most graciously with handsome wedding gifts. Among the gifts was a generous check from the bride's father.

IDENTIFIED AS A FORMER RESIDENT OF MISSION TOWN

Several years ago Rios was committed to the school for forging a check passed on San Juan Capistrano. He had written to his sister that he would be in the mission town on Sunday or Monday.

"MYRICKITE" NEW STONE

United States Geologists Name Death Valley Stone for Discoverer

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—"Myrickite" is the name of the new stone which F. M. Myrick has discovered in Death Valley. It has been so designated by the geological department at Washington, according to a letter received by the county supervisors yesterday from Douglas B. Sterrett, assistant geologist, who thanked the board for furnishing the address of Myrick. The stone is a variety of the agate and is very beautiful.

"No danger from that source," responded the latter, "a microbe could not live on a drug clerk's salary."—National Monthly.

'FRISCO WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE FOR CITY HALL TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—San Francisco will determine today at a special election whether the city is to be bonded for $8,800,000 for the construction of a city hall and the creation of a civic center. Semi-official organizations generally are in favor of the plan.

Of the 116,000 persons entitled to vote, more than 10,000 are women, who, it is believed, will vote for the bonds. Special arrangements have been made to convey them to the polls.

HOMESTEAD LAW IS AMENDED BY THE HOUSE

Action Designed to Check United States Immigration Into Canada

WASHINGTON, March 28.—With a view to checking immigration to Canada, the House yesterday passed a bill amending the homestead laws so as to require only three years' residence on a homestead before a patent is issued. The existing law requires five years. A similar bill was passed by the Senate and the difference in the two bills, which are minor, will be adjusted in conference.

BASEBALL TEAM ORGANIZED HERE

Grounds on East Fourth Street Have Been Leased by Local Players

On next Sunday, March 31, local baseball will be given another start. Grounds have been secured on East Fourth street just across the Santa Fe tracks on what was the Amalgamated Motors Co. site. A number of local fans have been working a long time to get the national sport started here, and they think they have got it to going now. "Rummy" Dubois has been one of the hardest workers.

The Santa Ana team has entered the Southern State League, which has the fastest semi-professional players in the Southland. Anson R. Mott will be seen in the local line-up. Clare Head will also be in the local uniform, and with other players such as Stevens, Brown, Dubois and "Pete" West, the locals will have a combination hard to beat.

LOS ANGELES WILL BUY NORMAL SCHOOL SITE

Los Angeles Tribune: With Councilman Andrews only opposed to the plan the council yesterday adopted the report of the finance committee that authorized the committee to purchase the normal school site and make the best contract it can with the two agencies that are contending with each other to purchase the property for the city.

The finance committee is considering two plans for the purchase of the property. One is the offer of Chas. A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company, to buy it for $500,000 and give the city a two years' option at the same price. The other is made by a syndicate of bankers, who offer to advance the city enough money to pay for the property at 4 1/2 per cent interest.

HE THINKS WILSON LITTLE IN LEAD

Head of Candidate's Campaign in This End of State Addressed Meeting

The Santa Ana Woodrow Wilson Club held its regular meeting last night at the office of B. E. Tarver, and heard a talk by Prof. T. H. Kirk, superintendent of public instruction on the Democratic ticket at the last election, and who is now head of the publicity department for the Wilson movement in the south. Prof. Kirk told of the progress of the campaign over the state, and said that according to present information the contest between Wilson and Clark will be a very close one, with the chances in favor of Wilson.

Steps were taken for the club for immediately enrolling the women of the city who are favorable to the Wilson candidacy. It will be left to the decision of the ladies whether they will unite with the present club or form one of their own. Arrangements have been made to have an able speaker here to address the first meeting of the ladies.

A. N. Zerman was elected vice president of the club, that office never having been filled.

LEE DE FORREST IS UNDER ARREST

Wireless Telegraph Company Head With Others is Charged With Fraud

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Lee De Forrest of the American De Forrest Wireless Telegraph Company, was arrested at Palo Alto yesterday on an indictment from the Southern district of New York, charging misuse of the mails.

The indictment which was returned March 15, 1912, names James Dunlop Smith, Samuel E. Darby, Elmer E. Burlingame and the Ellsworth Company as co-defendants with De Forrest.

De Forrest was released from custody last night on $10,000 bail. He says that he believes there has been fraud, but declares that he was personally not responsible.

SECRETARY KNOX SPEAKS AT SAN FRANCISCO, MAY 7

COUNTY CHARTER PLAN TURNED DOWN

I move that this organization refuse to further consider a county charter," Mills declared that no city or county had ever annulled a charter, once it had one. He thought the plan would give the county a chance to do quickly the things that are most needed. He favored it strongly. The elections might be placed in the primary elections, and thus save the expense.

Attorney A. W. Rutan of Santa Ana brought out a point to the effect that a commission form of government is meant to head off corruption and inefficiency of officials. Orange County's officers are neither corrupt nor inefficient. Suppose the offices are made appointive, the supervisors in control with all their appointments could build up a machine that could not be broken. The minority party would never have any representation in the county government. It only takes a majority vote to get a charter, but it takes a two-thirds vote to let go.

As Rutan sat down, cries of "Question" came from all over the assembly. The chairman, F. R. Aldrich, of La Habra, put Stewart's motion while Mills vainly tried to get the floor. Following the strong aye vote, there came no negative note. Mills still stood up, and demanded to be heard on the question. The chairman ruled him down, the matter having been settled. Finally Mills took his seat.

Visitors Speak
E. A. Walker, a visitor from San Diego, made a short talk on "Harbors," and at his request W. F. Menon read extracts from a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, showing the vast importance of encouraging the development of an American marine.

Charles Gales, of Norwalk, and Mr. Ardis and Mr. Strine of Downey, made short talks favoring the routing of the state highway through Anaheim, Fullerton, Norwalk and Downey. They spoke of that route as the route of least resistance and they as Los Angeles County men would like to see selected as the state highway route rather than have it go over the hills north of Fullerton.

Favor Direct Tax
Attorney A. W. Griffith of Huntington Beach, said that he understands the Board of Supervisors proposes to call a bond election to submit $50,000 bonds for a poor farm and county hospital.

"The election would cost us $6000," said he, "and that would be a big percentage on our money. Huntington Beach voted a direct tax, and cleaned up its affairs all at once. Orange County is a rich county, and the additional tax to raise $50,000 would be little. I move you that we recommend to the supervisors that a direct tax be levied for this amount, rather than resort to a bond issue."

Griffith's motion carried unanimously.

Committee Reports
The early part of the business session was taken up with an address of welcome by Attorney Head of Santa Ana and a reply by J. A. Armitage of Huntington Beach.

Supervisor Talbert as chairman of the committee appointed to see railroad officials in regard to electrifying the Southern Pacific loop said that he had talked to the engineer, Pillsbury, who was somewhat favorable to putting electricity on the southern portion of the loop.

A. L. Reed as, chairman, reported that his committee suggested that there be standing committees on ways and means; manufactures and commerce; railroads and transportation; education, advertising and exhibits; and good roads. On L. H. Wallace's suggestion, a committee on harbor was added. The organization adopted this list as the list of standing committees.

The next meeting will be held at Placentia.

Pleasant Affair

CONDORY SAID TO LACK MENTALLY FROM EARLY FALL

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—Morris J. Condory, the young man charged with burglary in entering the home of Mrs. Edna Cudaby, at Pasadena on February 28, will in all probability be submitted to a test for insanity, on the report made to the court by Dr. G. W. Campbell that Condory's mentality is defective.

The physician found that the defendant, who is 29 years old, when a baby of 18 months, fell and badly injured his skull. He declared Condory's brain was seriously affected, telling the court that a trephining operation would undoubtedly aid him. He would not say that a permanent cure would result.

Danderine

Grows hair and we can prove it

Hair Becomes Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Beautiful Immediately After a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair—No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Try as you will after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it, if you will just try a little Danderine. Real surprise awaits you.

Hill's Corner

We have long been aware that great changes have taken place in Kansas and tributary country since we departed therefrom but we were greatly surprised to learn (through Bro. McDannald's letter in Saturday's Register) that the topography and geography of the country had so wonderfully changed.

When we last visited Kansas City the hills were there but the wholesale business was nearly all confined to the bottoms and were frequently overflowed, but that's all changed and there are no bottom lands!! Marvelous change!!

And then the "Big Muddy" and the Kaw rivers were there, but the "Little Blue" was lost in the Big Blue one hundred and fifty miles northwest of the point where Bro. McDannald found it. Just how it happened we are not informed, perhaps it was an "earthquake" that did it and our friends forgot to tell us of it.

Then there's the terribly flat land all over the state, whereas when we lived there it was almost entirely occupied by rolling prairie except the "river bottoms," so there must have been some powerful rains during the past 25 years.

Then to learn that the soil is so generally "underlaid with impenetrable stone but a few feet from the surface" is terribly distressing and doubtless accounts for the political hard-heads that have managed to live there since the days of Jim Lane and John Brown.

That was a wise saying of Josh Billings that it is just well not to know so much as it is to know so many things that ain't so.

SAMUEL HILL.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Continued heavy arrivals of asparagus again furnished the feature in the market for miscellaneous vegetables. The increased receipts naturally sank prices to a lower level and sales were much more liberal at the reduced rates. There was a good local movement and in some instances where sales were large the price was in the neighborhood of three cents per pound. Fancy stock sold at ten cents while the lower level was five cents per pound. Other vegetables were firm and unchanged. There was a good outside demand for cauliflowers, celery and bunch stock.

The market for apples was dull and inactive. Sales were confined to small lots at quoted prices. Newton Pippins and Jonathans were best in call, the former selling at $1.75 and the latter at $2.75 for four-tier sizes. Eggs eased off 1/2 cent at all grades. Canned eggs sold at twenty-four cents, case counts at twenty-one cents and seconds and pullets at eighteen and nineteen cents, respectively. The market was inclined to weakness at the revision due to more liberal receipts and a rather light demand for this staple. Receipts were 716 cases.

The butter market showed a slight improvement over the previous day on creamery stock, which was firmly held at thirty-one and one-half cents per pound. Inferior grades were about steady. The San Francisco market reported firm at thirty-one cents. Arrivals were 24,992 pounds.

No change was shown in the market for spuds. The demand at the prevailing high prices on most varieties was moderate with dealers holding their stock at quoted prices. Notwithstanding, the quiet trade dealers would not shade their prices in the least. Receipts were 1286 sacks.

The market for onions was in good shape. Bermudas from Mexico were in good call at $3.00 per crate. All the yellow varieties were firmly held at $4.50 per hundredweight. No receipts of this commodity were reported in.

Sweet potato arrivals were fifteen sacks. The market was dull and featureless.

No beans came to hand. The market was firm to steady.

AT THE COURTHOUSE TO DISSOLVE SODA COMPANY

Promotion Scheme of Unpleasant Memory Reaches the Very Last Stage

Redondo Man is Ordered to Appear in Court Here to Answer Questions

Attorneys Scarborough & Forgy have filed a petition for the dissolution of the Pacific Coast Soda Co., which company long since was an admitted failure. The petition comes from the board of directors, E. B. Smith, Mit Phillips, J. A. Nunn, James Irvine, E. E. Remsburg, A. Stephenson and G. A. Whidden, on the authority of a stockholders' meeting held on Jan. 25. At that meeting 465,947 shares of stock were represented, and every share was voted in favor of dissolution as a corporation.

Between $100,000 and $125,000 in stock was sold in Santa Ana. The company was unable to carry out the project to a final test to determine whether or not there was anything in the business. The money subscribed was practically a complete loss. According to the petition there is $4500 left in the treasury to be distributed to the stockholders. The desert plant and the Aliso plant

Citation Issued

The superior court has issued a citation to W. R. Burnett of Redondo to appear in the superior court here on April 5 to answer questions as to $652 alleged to be held by him from the estate of John Eaton, who died on February 24, 1911. The citation is issued on the petition of Public Administrator Winbigler, who alleges that Burnett has "concealed, embezzled, smuggled, or fraudulently holds" the sum of $652. The heirs to the estate live in the East. Melrose & Ames of Anaheim represent the public administrator.

Case Dismissed

Dismissal was entered today on the request of Attorneys Keech & Davis in the action of Lloyd S. Ackerman against M. Nebelung and J. Bayha. The suit was brought on a claim of $7221.74 assigned to the plaintiff by J. Frowenfeld. Settlement out of court has been reached.

Worry the Cause

Worry over a swindle that occurred two or three years ago was the reason Peter M. Klassen lost his mind. He was one of the victims of Martens, the man who traded Kern county land to which he had no title, for land and money that were good. Several Anaheim ranchers brought suit and recovered their land. Klassen sued and won, but the worry of the trouble seemed to upset his mind. Yesterday he was examined in the superior court, and was sent to the asylum at Patton.

Suit to Annul

Ella B. Nangle today brought suit to annul her marriage in Los Angeles on Feb. 16, 1910, to James Nangle. Her complaint, filed by Attorney Bishop, states that at the time of the marriage Nangle had another wife, Grace Evans, who had an interlocutory decree of divorce against him from Cook county, Ill., which decree had never been made final. On finding this out, Mrs. Ella Nangle quit living with Nangle, and now asks for annulment. She lives in this county.

Kill Squirrels

The Yorba Linda Association has petitioned the Board of Supervisors to take some steps to kill the squirrels in and about the Yorba Linda tract. The association cannot handle the fight alone as it has no authority to enter upon other people's lands. The Bureau of Public Health has told the association that the Board of Supervisors has authority to do the work.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT TWO WALKED TO SAN PEDRO

Chavaria Threatened to Kill Girl, so She Says She Elope-d With Him

Rosinda Chavaria and Maris Regue-ro, the 13-year-old girl with whom he eloped, were brought back here today by Constable Jackson, who located them at San Pedro. The elopement occurred on February 14. The girl threw a bundle of clothes out of a window, slipped from the house and joined Chavaria, who is about 24 years old.

The girl is no longer fond of Chavaria. She says she threatened to kill her if she did not go with him. The two walked to San Pedro, arriving there the second night after leaving here. On the journey neither had anything to eat. They were found at East San Pedro at the home of Felix Cortez.

PHILIP HICHBORN ENDS RUINED LIFE

Wife Who Deserted Admiral's Son Will Not be Notified of His Death

WASHINGTON, March 28.—No effort is being made to locate Eleanor Hoyt Hichborn, the wife of Philip S. Hichborn, who shot and killed himself from brooding over his marital troubles. The suicide took place yesterday afternoon in this city at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. S. Pearl.

Hichborn was the son of the late Admiral Hichborn. His wife is alleged to have eloped with Horace Wyke, a Washington attorney, and an intimate friend of Hichborn's. Friends of Hichborn intimated today that no endeavor would be made to find the couple or to inform them of Hichborn's suicide.

Hichborn's suicide is the climax of a scandal caused by the elopement of Hichborn's wife, who, before her marriage, was Eleanor Hoyt, daughter of the late solicitor general of the State Department, and a well-known figure in Washington social circles, with Horace Wyke, a Washington lawyer and clubman. Wyke was about 40 years old and Mrs. Hichborn 25.

Hichborn had been planning, after obtaining a divorce, to give up his law business in Washington and move to the Pacific coast. He had, in fact, just returned from a three weeks' trip to California.

CHAS. F. NEILL IS ENDEAVORING TO HALT COAL STRIKE

COLUMBUS, March 28.—Commissioner of Labor Charles F. Neill is here by President Taft's order to investigate the strained relations between the bituminous miners and operators, and to use his influence to prevent a strike. He is holding secret conferences with both sides.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION ALLOWS $60,000 CLAIMS

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Claims of the State Highway Commission aggregating approximately $60,000, many of which have been held up since February 8, when the discussion between the Board of Control and the Highway Commission as to the rights of "pre-auditing" claims on the highway bond funds started, were approved yesterday by the members of the State Board of Control. The approval of these back claims, according to members of the Board of Control, does not mean that a settlement of their mission has been reached. The test case, a friendly suit before the Third District Appellate Court, will be arranged as soon as the two boards can hold a conference on the matter.

SPEED MARVEL IS BOAT OWNED BY W. S. COLLINS

Los Angeles Examiner: What is declared to be the fastest boat on the Pacific coast was delivered yesterday to W. S. Collins, vice president of the Oil and Metals Bank and Trust Company. The boat was taken to the Collins summer home at Balboa Island, where it will be entered in the motor boat races next summer.

The speed marvel, in trials at Saginaw, registered thirty-five miles an hour, and it is expected that still greater speed will be attained after the engine has been worked out. The engine is 60-horse power.

The craft is but twenty feet long and has room only for the operator. He must be an expert, both as engineer and navigator. The boat, when at full speed, has more than half the feel out of water.

SCORES PLANS TO HALT WILL OF PEOPLE

Withstanding Colonel Roosevelt's statement that he has no intention of bolting the Republican party should he fail to receive the nomination, many Roosevelt and Taft adherents insist on interpreting his Chicago speech, in which he said: "Republicans are not bound to respect a nomination secured by thuggery," as an indication that he has such plans.

Gifford Pinchot declared that Roosevelt had no such intention, then lambasted the Taftites for declaring that Roosevelt had violated Taft's friendship, incidentally accusing Taft for hooking up with the machines, including the Southern Pacific machine in California.

HUGHES MAY BE USED AS STOP-GAP BY TAFTITES

CHICAGO, March 28.—Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States Supreme Court, was proposed yesterday as a possible heir to President Taft's political strength. This story came with the coming of Colonel Roosevelt's train to Chicago.

Frank Knox, chairman of the Michigan State Committee, declared that the Taft organization is ready to drop the president as its candidate for the nomination and come out into the open for Hughes. Rumors that Hughes' name has been mentioned frequently with the tacit approval of many of the Taft managers, are said by Knox to be rife in the east. Knox charges the Taft organization with planning to create a situation making it impossible to nominate either Roosevelt or Taft.

'FRISCO MINT MAY BE UNMOLESTED

California Representatives Point Out Efficiency of Coast Institution

WASHINGTON, March 28.—That the movement to abolish the coinage department at the San Francisco mint will be quietly dropped by the house committee on appropriations is now confidently predicted by the California members of Congress.

This conclusion was reached yesterday after Representatives Raker, Hayes, Kent, Needham, Knowland and Stephens had appeared before the subcommittee which has the mint appropriations in charge and made the strong plea for the San Francisco institution.

All the members named addressed the committee. It was pointed out that the San Francisco mint has always been operated at a profit; that it is located in the center of a great mining territory; that the Pacific coast uses gold and silver coins almost exclusively, and that the production of gold in California is increasing rather than decreasing.

It was further shown from the treasury reports that San Francisco's receipts of gold are second only to those of New York, and that San Francisco would be first except for the gold received in New York from Europe. San Francisco's receipts, it was shown, are principally from ores newly mined.

NEW YORK TO JOIN IN PANAMA FAIR

Gov. Dix Sends Emergency Message; Senate Passes Bill for $700,000 Appropriation

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—Under an emergency message from Governor Dix the Senate last night passed a bill providing for the state's participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $700,000, of which $250,000 is appropriated this year. It further authorizes the appointment of a commission of fifteen, five to be named by the governor, five by the temporary chairman of the Senate and five by the speaker of the Assembly.
